DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-10, in the reply filed on February 27, 2007 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 8 contains the trademark/trade name Pilot 140, Pilot 299, Pilot 900 and Petro-Canada 100N. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe aliphatic hydrocarbon solvents and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 2002102942.

WO teaches a fuel additive detergent composition comprising a succinic acylating agent/amine reaction product (see abstract). The fuel has a sulfur content of 0.002 % by wt or less and the additive may include a solvent such as aliphatic hydrocarbons (see page 10, lines 7-9 and claims 12-13). The reactants in the reaction product are PIB-substituted succinic acids and polyamines wherein the PIB has a molecular weight from 400-2500 (see claims 1, 5 and 6). WO teaches the limitations of the claims other than the differences that are discussed below.

WO fails to teach the sulfur content of the solvent. However, no unobviousness is seen in this difference because WO teaches that the fuel composition is a low-sulfur fuel composition and the skilled artisan would desire to use a solvent that is substantially free or free of sulfur.

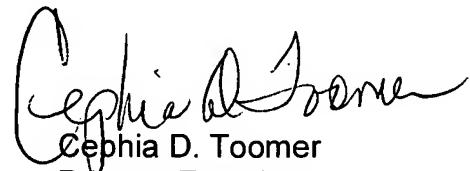

With respect to the flash point of the solvent, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select solvents possessing the claimed flash points because the skilled artisan would recognize the need to select a solvent that would have a high flash point in order to not increase the volatility of the fuel composition.
